Scope of Service:

The Certified Co-Occurring Disorder Professional requires a counseling related Masters or Doctorate degree for Diplomate Status and a Bachelor’s degree in a counseling related area for the Standard CCDP as well as specific professional experience and training in co-occurring disorders. The CCDP can obtain IC&RC reciprocity by passing the CDS Exam. The CCDP works with clients who have a primary diagnosis of both mental health and addiction problems. The CCDP is not a clinical practice credential and should only be used for work within health care or counseling settings. Private practice counselors must have a license approved by the Division of Consumer Affairs to provide independent counseling.
